The panel must review. On what grounds a person is classified as being "on the job"

My common-law-spouse.

Drove line-haul truck for [REDACTED]

He had logged in for work, but had a massive heart attack and died.

He wAs NOT driving as the time, but had logged in.

So if a person is doing their job, whether it be a trucker, taxi cab driver, or any service personal.

Should the family not be covered?

I was told, NO, because he was not driving.

He was doing his job, he was not home. But on the road, doing his job.
