Input: In 2014, I had the misfortune of falling at work and landing on my tailbone. To make a long story (3 years) short...I think there needs to be more one on one, meaning face to face meetings with the injured. After my dealings with WCB I have no faith in your system. There is no verbal or physical contact only snail mail. And that in my books is unacceptable. I phoned my case worker every second day, left messages and no return calls until 2 1/2 months without pay him telling me that they were not going to pay me for being off work. I am willing to come and meet with you regarding this issue or I could go to the media because I have nothing left to lose. I was forced into retirement because I could not do my job properly and my employer wasn't willing to retrain me even though I was hurt on their premise.
