I think rates should be considered on where you are situated and the kind of health care services are provided in that area. For instance, if a person in Winnipeg has an injury and a person has the same injury in a small rural community the care is different, City person gets quicker care, more cost efficient and usually gets to work a lot quicker. Rural person. May or may not even get into a doctor, waits are forever to see specialist. Time loss is higher. I have to say WCB has come along way in helping injured get back to work quicker using their Doctors. Has improved a lot. So that is good.

Also - I find your website, hard to navigate through. Would like to go on the main page and just log in and have better/easier to find, buttons for online claims, reports etc.
