I've worked as a Diesel Mechanic for 45 years. In the past I was diagnosed with carpal tunnel. The surgery was performed on both hands yet...WCB would only compensate me for my right hand...because I'm right handed. This decision was a joke.....there is not such a thing as a right handed only mechanic.....you try to appeal but are stone walled by red tape. The adjudicator are ignorant and threatening.

Again...I tore my left bicep at work. The case worker threatened to close my file because I had a noon appointment with a surgeon at the PanAm Clinic. I asked if I could stay another nite on Winnipeg because I had a 8 hour drive home after being able to leave the city by 2 p.m. ...this is when he pulled the ignorant card.

I have had nothing but grief with WCB...

They should not be called WCB...because they do not compensate the hard working people of Manitoba.

During one of my Dr. appointments....there was 6 patients in a waiting room...after a few minutes...the people started talking to each other. Within 20 minutes ...everyone in that room had expressed their own horror story about WCB. I only wish now that CTV or Global had been in that waiting room to record the frustration of the working man.....

WCB should fire or at least listen to the "recorded for training purpose" audio of [REDACTED] conversations.....
